Michael Woodward Macon

A Mass of Christian burial will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday, March 21, 2001, in St. Pius X Catholic Church in Cedar Mill for Michael Woodward Macon, who died March 15 of lymphoma at age 32. Mr. Macon was born Oct. 11, 1968, in Milwaukee. He graduated from the University of Dayton and received a master's degree and doctorate from Georgia Institute of Technology. In 1996, he moved to Portland, where he was an assistant professor at Oregon Graduate Institute, teaching digital signal processing and researching speech synthesis techniques. In 1997, he married Dr. Amy Zepp.

Survivors include his wife; parents, Thomas W. and Mary Ann; and brother, Robert T.

Interment in St. Luke Cemetery in Woodburn. Remembrances to a scholarship fund in his name at Oregon Graduate Institute. Arrangements are by Pegg, Paxson & Springer.
